

YOUR STORY

The story doesn't end here
Your life will be a beautiful book
Written by the most High
Where nothing is overlooked

Words running across the page
As He looks into your face
And says,
“You are not in the last chapter
Let me remind you how much you matter
I began a good work in you
I will finish it too”

Your story might have gone a different direction
You wonder, “Did I miss the connection?”
No! Nothing is wasted
